

Year in Review 2019

Putting patients at the heart of our digital hospitals - here are some of our highlights over the past year. You can find out more about how we, Cambridge University Hospitals (CUH), are developing digital capabilities and using technology to benefit patients by visiting our website or by following us on social media.

JANUARY

CHKS national case study published about clinicians & coders working together for data accuracy at CUH

"For many years coding was seen as a back-office function, so it's been about spreading awareness that it's actually a technical role translating what's been documented into clinical codes"
